INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CITY OF VALLEJO'S 2010 URBAN WATER MANAGEMENT PLAN UPDATE

In the coming weeks, the City of Vallejo will be updating its Urban Water Management Plan (UWMP), including its Water Shortage Contingency Plan.

Urban water suppliers, such as the City of Vallejo, are required by the Urban Water Management Planning Act to update their UWMP and submit a completed plan to the California Department of Water Resources (DWR) every five years. An UWMP is required in order for a water supplier to be eligible for DWR administered State grants, loans and drought assistance.

The plan describes and evaluates the City's water sources, water use patterns, and actions the City will take to ensure that water is used efficiently within the service area, including during any potential water shortages.

If you have any comments or concerns regarding water management, including water conservation programs and water shortage contingency actions, or wish additional information, please contact:

Pamela Sahin, Water Conservation Coordinator
